

Dr. Heidi Gerard Kaduson

Multicultural Play Therapy Center Conference

June 26-27, 2017

Day 1: June 26

Title: Play Diagnosis and Assessment

Description: Play diagnosis and assessment is a growing field with the increasing focus in both research and practice on the importance of play for children. This seminar will present a general overview of the field, along with practical assessments tools to use in play therapy sessions. Videos and an experiential play will enhance the didactic presentation.

Participants will be able to:

1. Learn play therapy assessment tools to use easily in any setting.
2. Understand the value of play assessment and diagnosis in treating children.
3. Review several research based play assessments to use in specific settings.
4. Learn advantages and disadvantages of play diagnosis and assessment.

Day 2: June 27

Title: Step by Step: How to Use Play Therapy to Help Children with Excessive, Worry, Anxiety and/or Perfectionism

Description: While anxiety appears to be a natural part of the life of a child, this seminar will provide a step by step approach to helping children through play therapy who have excessive worry, anxiety and/or perfectionism. Several theoretical approaches will be reviewed and demonstrated. DVD presentations will be provided to illustrate different methods, with skill practice to have fun.

Participants will be able to:

1. Name 4 common fears for children, along with the age of onset.
2. Distinguish between “normal” anxiety or worry and anxiety or worry that needs treatment.
3. Help parents be able to guide their children through anxiety provoking situations.
4. Identify through play the triggers of worry for children.
5. Use several techniques to reduce anxiety in children within the playroom.
